FOREWORD

Carcinosin is comparatively a new remedy in the Homoeopathic armamentarium, now deserving the status of a Polychrest.

This remedy was known to, and used rarely by, BURNETT and KENT, but it came into prominence after Dr. Donald Mac Donald FOUBISTER (1902-1988) introduced it in 1952 in the Royal London Homeopathic Hospital, in the 1950s. "After 200 cases with apparently successful results of treatment with Carcinosin, the first paper, 'A clinical study of Carcinosin' was read to the Faculty of Homoeopathy. This led to a conventional Proving by Dr. TEMPLETON, which elicited dullness of mind, thinking difficult, dissatisfaction (which was in- keeping with CLARKE's observation that Carcinosin was useful in mental cases with tendency to suicide), and a family history of Cancer . Dr. ELIZABETH PATERSON said that she thought Cancer represented the end - effect of all Miasms, which was why Tuberculinum, Medorrhinum and Leiticum were all needed.

KENT believed Cancer to be a result of the suppressed Psora, and it is of interest to note that in some cases responding to Carcinosin, clear-cut indications appear for a related remedy including Psorinum..... DR. IMBERECHTS who had extensive experience, noted that childish illness after puberty could be regarded as an indication for Carcinosin, and this I can fully confirm It soon became evident that after a prescription of Carcinosin there tended to be an inflammation or other reaction, very often beginning on the tenth day, and that reaction might last two or three weeks. This has been confirmed at all ages. It is better to assess progress six weeks after a prescription of Carcosm rather than at four weeks, keeping in mind that if an aggravation should occur, it is virtually always completed by that time." (Tutorials on Homoeopathy, by Donald Mac D.FOUBISTER, 1989).

I have quoted rather extensively only to stress the valuable clinical observations of the Masters.

A conference exclusively on Carcosm was held in 1989 at Hechtel, Belgium.

Full Homeopathic provings of Carcosm have been done and published in International journals.

All these are mentioned to point out the importance Carcinosin is gaining in our Therapeutics.

The book by Dr. Ajay Kumar Babu on Carcinosin is therefore most welcome. The monograph is based on personal experience and thus confirmatory of the symptoms, clinical states. I am sure that it will be of great use to the homoeopathic practitioners in their everyday practice.

I hope and wish that this booklet will be read extensively and members of the profession would provide 'feed-back' for it is only in that way that clinical pictures are built.

PREFACE

Change is a most interesting phenomenon. On one hand, we want change - we cherish it, we demand it. On the other hand, new information that heralds these changes we crave for, is all too frequently met with negativity and resistance. History is replete with examples to prove this paradox. But changes and transformation are a part and parcel of progress. The truths come to stay and the half-truths change day in and day out.

As my knowledge and understanding deepened over the years through clinical experience, the need to share my views with my students and colleagues become increasingly obvious to me. I am personally confident and enthusiastic of what has been presented here. The Grace of God, my Guru and Parents have been boundless.

Actually, what I have studied or not studied is irrelevant. The only thing of relevance and importance is whether the information in this book can be of help to ailing humanity. The only thing that matters is , at the end of the day , will it prove worthy of the years of intensive earnest study and hard work put into it ? The answer is in the hands of the generations to come. As I said earlier, changes in views take time to be imbibed in. Resistance and negativity are expected but truths are here to Stay.

During each era of Homoeopathic transformation, the pillars of our medical science have scrupulously taught miasmatic remedies and nosodes from their provings and clinical experience. I believe that Carcinodin, a deep acting trimiasmatic remedy needs more attention. I have tried to explain and explore the symptoms of Carcinodin in depth.

Diseases of the new millennium are highly complex and multifactorial in origin. Hence, viewing from the miasmatic point, they show moré of sycotic and syphilitic predominance. While learning in about any disease or drug, I feel that symptoms alone are insufficient to grasp the complete picture. Every doctor must make an inner journey, take his understanding beyond the limits of the physical body and into the heart of deeper reality. An attempt should be made to analyze every disease, drug and individual from the miasmatic point of view. The time has come to force our way out of the current crisis in treating syco-syphilitic diseases. Unless the inner nature of remedies correspond with the inner nature of diseases, the remedy will not relieve the diseases in its whole extent.

As a student, I was very much astonished and perplexed to witness the prescription of the drug Carcinodin by some doctors, simply to relieve the pain of cancer without going into any symptom totality. Even at that young age, I found these methods indiscriminate and ridiculous from the Homoeopathic point of view, of what has been taught by our great master. Years of diligent, persistent inquiry and earnest effort for the last fifteen years on proving and clinical studies on Carcinodin made me write some notes on it. It is not my intention to write a whole book on it. But, it is my way of propelling my experiences on the doctrines of Homoeopathy to my beloved students and all those interested in Classical Homeopathy.

In this work, I have tried to explain the evolution as well as the miasmatic expression of Carcinodin. It is depicted as a trimiasmatic Materia Medica - a deviation from the publications of materia medicas based on drug symptomatology alone. The reader should get an image of Carcinodin in all the three miasmatic expressions.

I have also tried to demystify some erroneous notions about this precious remedy, like, Carcinodin should not be given during early childhood, Carcinodin cannot be given to diagnosed Cancer cases, etc.

Beyond a shadow of doubt, Carcinodin, like any other deep acting constitutional remedy can be given purely based on its symptomatology and miasmatic expressions. The only thing is that the vibrations of this medicine should be fully perceived by the physician using it. A good part of this work retraces the Homoeopathic philosophy and shows the necessity of knowing not only the materia medica, but also its foundation in miasms.

Till date, I have had around a thousand cases cured with this drug. And only those symptoms that have been cured in all Levels of the diseased are recorded truthfully here to get outline this medicine. Case studies have been included for further clarification of the symptoms. Eventually, a complete picture of the remedy has evolved.

Practicing Homoeopathy has always given me immense hope and confidence in what I perceive. And the most difficult of it is the interpretation of the symptoms miasmatically. I would, therefore advise that practitioners of Homoeopathy should train themselves to observe the symptoms from the patients' story in its context, evaluation and intensity - with causation, sensation, location, modalities and concomittance.

Finally, be proud to be under the great shelter of Homoeopathy. Money, fame and respect are just a part of it. But, to be in the path of "A seeker" through this great Science is the best part of it. You have this great shade to guide you through all your difficulties. But, for that you have to build a strong and immovable shelter - to protect you and all those dependent on you. So, be like a hardworking sincere mason putting up his building with the utmost care, each stone accurately and diligently in place.
