INTRODUCTION

Inventor of homoeopathy, Dr. Christian Fredrik Samuel Hahnemann was a priest of reality. His mission in life was to restore the sufferer to health. His ideal of cure was rapid, gentle and permanent restoration of health based on easily comprehensible principles. He devoted his life in quest of the true art of healing. Without practical experience, he was never satisfied to come to conclusions. He conducted experiments decade after decade and observed more minutely the action of medicine. He always updated his experiments and observations. He never hesitated to change his views according to his latest experiments. He published those observations time to time to guide his followers properly. Similarly, he edited his 'Organon of Medicine' for six times. The Organon of Medicine includes his ideas, views, observations and principles found through his numerous experiments. Each edition was enriched version by new observations.

Homoeopathy is the only therapeutic system in administering potentised medicine. Along with the advancement of experimental idea, Hahnemann had changed the process of dynamization according to the need of the hour. Hahnemann introduced centesimal scale of potency in the 5th edition of his 'Organon of Medicine' in 1833.

LM Potency

"The highest ideal of cure is rapid, gentle and permanent restoration of the health, or removal and annihilation of the disease in its whole extent, in the shortest, most reliable, and most harmless way, on easily comprehensible principles." (Aphorism 2, Organon of Medicine)

But, when Hahnemann applied this centesimal scale, he observed that, it used to bring unbearable medicinal aggravation and took long time in the curing processes. He realized that, his 'ideal of cure' did not materialize always through the above said potency. He then went through paragraph-by-paragraph of his book and did necessary alteration and addition. In the next edition of 'Organon of Medicine', he changed the method of preparation of medicine and posology system. In that latest, i.e. 6th edition, he advocated 50 Millesimal potencies, which was developed in his last years of life (1833-1843).

He wrote in footnote to aphorism 246, "Whatⁿ said in tⁿ 5th edition of the Organon, in a long note to this paragraph in order to prevent these undesirable reactions of the vital energy, was all that the experience I then had justified. But during the last four or five year, however, all these difficulties are wholly solved by my new altered but perfected method. The same carefully selected medicine may be given daily or for months, ----- "

Disease, especially chronic, does not aggravate suddenly but aggravate gradually and slowly. It is the nature of chronic disease. So, potency should not be increased suddenly. It is to be increased by degrees. Moreover, cures also come gradually and slowly. It is the nature of a real cure, which is said 'homoeopathic cure'. Centesimal scale of potency would have been applied with long gaps, i.e. 30 to 200, 200 to 1000 and so on. So, there is no similarity of the disease state with that of the medicinal state. The mode of LM potency is quite compatible with the progress of the disease stage, which is a more scientific process. The latent and inner essence of drug substance become unfolded to its fullest extent as it need much more contradiction in long three hours trituration and one hundred succussions in each stage. In short, a comprehensive qualitative change of the drug was assured through manifestation of the aforesaid dynamic processes. Hence, it showed much potentiality, which other scales of potencies could not administer.

In my fifteen years of practice, I am always using LM potency with great success. In acute and chronic both field, its action is wonderful. I request to my colleagues to rely on LM potency without any hesitation and they will achieve every success.

During the study of P.G., I gained numerous knowledge and felt that, the works on LM potency by my seniors did not cover the whole subject to acquire keen knowledge of the subject. After addition of many new chapters, this work is being completed for publishing.

My most respected teacher, Internationally reputed teacher and Hahnemannian Homoeopath, Former Physician to President of India, Chairmen, Research wings, Central Council of Homoeopathy, Govt. of India Dr. D. P. Rastogi has taken painstaking responsibility to make this book complete by sending his valuable foreword note. I dare not thank him I am indebted to him.

I am thankful to my teachers Dr. Ramjee Sing, Dr. Mahendra Singh, Dr. Ramjee Dubey, Dr. L. M. Khan, my uncle Dr. Japan Chakraborty, elder brother Dr. Satchidananda Choudhury, Kanti Ranjan De, younger brother Biplab Choudhury, Sandeep Bhaduri, friend Dr. Ajay Kumar Das, Avik Maitra for their help, encouragement and guidance.

Congratulation to brother Mr. Mayur Jain, proprietor of IBPS to publish this book within a short period.

Lastly, my thanks go to my daughters Srinjona - Srobona and wife Kakoli, who always allow me to work upon my everlasting projects.

Truth is always relative. Being a branch of science it is also applicable in this work also. So, it is to be done gradually to make it ever perfect. I shall be highly obliged if my errors
