Preface

In publishing this book I was inspired by a burning passion to provide some consolation to the vast magnitude of suffering humanity. To me it has been like a divine command; and it is entirely due to the blessings of Goddess of Learning All Mighty Saraswati that I could accomplish my job to put things in a manner that may be understandable by all sections of people. I claim no perfection. However I consider it to be an urgent message that needs to be conveyed to the profession and then to the people at the grass root level. How much I succeed in my mission is for you to judge but I earnestly feel that it is an endeavor worth undertaking.

This book is divided in two parts. The first part relates to the etiology of diseases as it should be, a concept of dynamism and its relation to soul and soul force where the derangement takes place to cause sickness. This principle is based on Nature's Law of Cure. The second part of the book is meant to introduce to the readers Gelsemium and Gelsemium type of diseases. This plant alone is capable of curing one fourth of the world's existing diseases. This is a rough and conservative estimate; the actual figure of beneficiaries may be much higher.

I wish I had written this book ten years earlier, but probably then I did not have real intuition. To day when I have gained much more in experience I keenly desire in all humility to give some glimpses of my work to my colleagues to emphasise that hard work and patient endeavour with divine blessings have contributed in a big way towards strengthening my resolve to successfully heal the sick and bring cheer into the lives of those in pain, those who had lost all hope of recovery. I wish to pass on my knowledge and experience to our younger generation so that they may identify every remedy themselves and the picture so formed would be a boon for them in their practice.

I am indebted to authors to whose work references have been made by me because without these references this book would have been incomplete. The greatest of them, who has been a source of inspiration to me, is the immortal Samuel Hahnemann the Founder of Homoeopathy and his priceless gems of truth. The publications from Prajapati Brahmakumari Ishwariya Vishwa Vidalya and All India Magazine monthly publication of Shri Aurobindo Society, Pondicherry have also influenced my thoughts and references have been made from their writings. I have further taken references from writings of Stuart Close, J.T.Kent, J.H. Clarke, Hering Guiding Symptoms Garth Boericke, Ancient Science & Art of Pranic Healing by Choekok Sui, The Memory of Water by Michel Schiff. The Guide to important medicinal plants by Homoeopathic Pharmacopoeia Laboratory Ghaziabad, India and IndiaToday Plus 1st quarter, 1997.
